RIO SASS CANYON

RIO SASSI CANYON

The route starts from the historic centre of Fondo and goes down to the lower part of the village.

As soon as you are on the path you enter the pulsating heart of the village. From below you can admire, tens of metres above you, the old village houses built on the rock precipice, with the washing hanging out to dry in the sun as in bygone times.

Beyond this the scene becomes increasingly fascinating and indescribable, with a play of lights and shadows silhouetted on impenetrable rocks covered by moss and lichen. The narrow passage between the sheer rock walls makes the route even more captivating.

In recent years a new section has been added in the Rio Sass Canyon that extends the excursion to the locality called "bagni di Fondo", a small spa establishment in use from the mid-19th century until the 1950s and also visited on some occasions by the Austrian emperor Franz Joseph and his wife Sissi.

NOVELLA FLUVIAL PARK

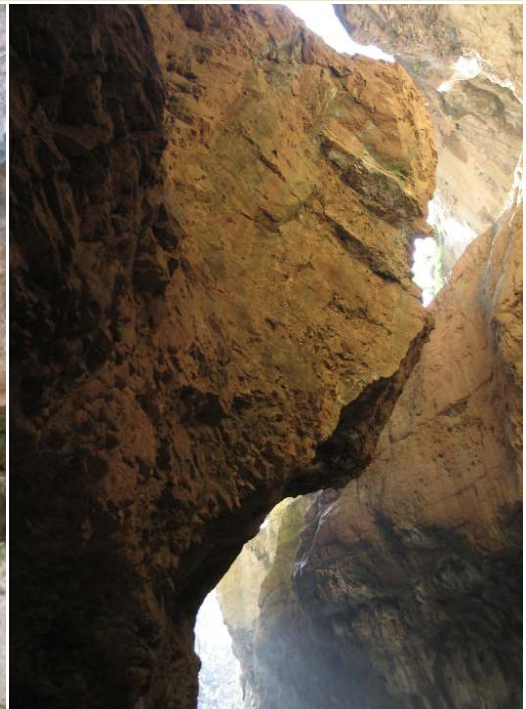

Emotions
Stunning scenery
Primordial nature

Among the spectacular gorges of Val di Non made accessible by man's work, the Novella Fluvial Park is the unequalled synthesis of all the extraordinary features of this area.

After a "journey" in the heart of the rocks, this itinerary opens onto a scene in which the colours and formation of the huge walls of the canyon, between the villages of Dambel, Cloz and Romallo, recall the Grand Canyon in America.

The Rio Novella, in millions of years, has created a masterpiece that is now visitable thanks to a structure "suspended in mid-air" permitting everyone to walk in the gorge, in a setting that takes your breath away.

The Canyon can be visited with qualified operators who provide all that is needed for fully appreciating this fantastic experience.

NOVELLA
FLUVIAL PARK

The visit with a naturalistic guide starts from one of the three villages of the Park (Cloz - Dambel - Romallo in rotation).

The exact place is notified at the time of booking. Part of the itinerary, which altogether extends for about three and a half kilometres, is in a sunny valley with spectacular scenery.

The layers of red, yellow, grey and white rocks give you the impression of being in a film set the American West.

Part of the route, instead, is inside the actual gorge, where the facilitated footway leads to a magical world of canyons hundreds of metres deep and the discovery of masterpieces created by endless drops of water.

Along the route the visitor will see evidence of the co-existence of man and nature in the course of time: the old Cloz mills, the Pozzena hydro-electric power station, Roman bridges and the limekiln for the production of lime. Not far from the gorge stands the romantic Saint Biagio hermitage, above the village of Romallo.
